By Telegraph to the Post-DISPATCH.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 12.—The St. Louis Postmastership has not been decided, but stands just as it did five days ago. The friends of Chauncy L. Filley are manifesting great energy in his behalf, and to-day urgent telegrams have been forwarded in all the Congressional committees in all three representative districts of St. Louis, from all the members of the convention which nominated the three Congressmen, and from leading and influential citizens, including the Hon. E. O. Standard, and others. These papers will be placed before the Administration at once, and Congressman Niedringhaus will continue to urge his favorite candidate. A decision is looked for very soon.

The St. Louis Congressmen are being fairly overwhelmed with telegrams from the respective friends of Messrs. Filley and Schuette. It looks like the contest would now be carried on entirely by wire.

Burial of Mrs. Scott-Lord.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 12.—Funeral services were held over the remains of Mrs. Scott-Lord at 11 o'clock this morning at the Church of the Incarnation. Rev. Dr. Townsend officiating. Vice-President, Mrs. Morris, Secretary and Mrs. Blaine, Secretaries of the House, Mr. and Mrs. Rusk and the ladies of their families, and a number of prominent persons occupied pews.

The pall-bearers were Postmaster-General W. M. Scott-Lord, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Williams, Judge Shalshamer and Mayor Robert Parker. As the remains were borne into the church they were followed by Lieutenant Peter and Mrs. Peter, Mrs. Peter, Mrs. Peter, Mrs. Peter and Mrs. Robert Parker, Dr. Morris and Mrs. Miller, the President and Mrs. Harrison and a number of the friends of the deceased.

The services were simple, followed by a hymn and a few short prayers, and the choir led the way from the church down the aisle, singing "Asleep in Jesus," followed by the mourners. The remains were carried to the grave in Rock Creek Cemetery by about forty persons, the mourners, the members of the Cabinet and the ladies of their families and a number of friends. The ceremonies at the grave were very brief.

Missourians at Washington.

By Telegraph to the Post-DISPATCH.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 12.—Ex-Congressman Scott has gone home from New York, and Mr. Gratz will leave for St. Louis this afternoon.

Cook, Then Holiday, ex-chief of a division in the Treasury, will leave to-night for his home in Madison County.

The friends of George McLean of Kansas City are preparing for the vacancy made by Judge Holiday's resignation.

J. A. Parker of Trenton, Mo., is here to urge the appointment of Walter F. Folker to the National Bank Examiner of the Second District. He is supported by the Hon. A. Tomlin, a national banker at St. Louis, Mo.

General Shields' admirers in all parts of the West are sending telegrams and letters indorsing him for the judgeship. Among them this morning was one from Maj. W. H. Williams, who is a champion of Sherman of Ohio, who is also said to be championing the cause of the popular Missourian.

The Siletz Investigation.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 12.—The report of the Siletz Select Committee gives a detailed statement of the assets and liabilities of the office on December 6. The shortage is stated to be $70,000.00. It is also noted that the Committee has not yet made sufficient investigation of the matter of disbursements and notes. Many notes, the committee believes, were forgotten to be recovered, and already existing. It also says that the committee can not severely condemn the manner in which the sergeant-at-arms handled the office of the office.

Mr. Payson offered a resolution continuing the committee and giving it enlarged powers, on which a long debate sprang up, after which a motion was made to adjourn the session of the select committee, so that it may report to the House its conclusions as to the effect of any deficiency of cash in the office of the Sergeant-at-Arms.

Nominations Sent to the Senate.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 12.—The President to-day sent the following nominations to the Senate: Cyrus J. Fry of South Dakota, to be Marshal of the District, for the District of South Dakota; also a large number of recent nominations, among them the following: Joel B. Clegg, of New York, to be Collector of Customs for the District of New York; David W. McHugh of Ohio, to be Collector of Internal Revenue for the First District of Ohio; and D. St. John of Minnesota, to be Supervisor of steam-vessels for the Fifth District.

The World's Fair.

By Telegraph to the Post-DISPATCH.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 12.—At World's Fair headquarters Walker Wear and staff were busy this morning entertaining visitors. Things look just as encouraging as they have for day or two past. The committee feel that they did well, and are positive up to the present and will await anxiously the action of Congress on the Fair bill.

Raum's Appointment Confirmed.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 12.—The President this afternoon confirmed the nomination of Green H. Raun of Illinois to be Commissioner of Pensions.

FIFTY-FIRST CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 12.—After some important routine business, the introduction of the bill was resumed in the Senate to-day.

Mr. Butler produced a bill providing for the extension of notes of color from the Southern States and Mr. Stewart presented his free coinage bill.

After a brief executive session, the Senate adjourned until Monday.

The House.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 12.—Immediately after the reading of the journal, Mr. Butterworth of Ohio, rising to a question of privilege, offered the following preamble and resolution:

Whereas, On divers days during the month of October, 1889, and at other times since that date, there appeared in the general Commercial Gazette and in other public journals, what purported to be an exact copy of a certain contract, alleged to have been made, and entered into, between the Postmaster and the Postmaster, which charges are an assault upon the official integrity and reputation for honesty of each of said several members and senators of Congress; therefore, the Hon. S. S. Cox, deceased, are still members of this House and of the Senate of the United States.

Whereas, said contract as published as authentic and genuine, is the basis for charges, suggestions, and insinuations that the said members and senators that were said to be on said alleged contract entered into an unlawful and corrupt contract and scheme to defraud the United States in the matter of the official integrity and reputation for honesty of each of said several members and senators of Congress; therefore,

That a committee of five members of the House be appointed by the Speaker to make full and thorough investigation and report without delay the evidence together with their findings therein to the House. Said committee shall appoint said assistant and report.

1. By whom said alleged contract was prepared and whether the several signatures appearing on the same are genuine.

2. If forged, what person or persons, if any, were directly or indirectly aiding,abetting, assisting or knowingly consenting to the making of the same, and whether it was forged by the party or parties to the contract.

3. Whether any of the members whose names appear on the contract and signatures were guilty of any violation of the law.

FRANK BROS., BROADWAY AND WASHINGTON AV.

FIFTY CENTS, PLEASE

That's the Modest Request Which Will Be Made By 9,000 JURORS.

An Amendment Increasing Jurors' Pay Which Was Not Discovered By the Clerks of the Courts.

Under the Revised Statutes of 1879 as Amended at the Last Session of the Legislature the Pay of Jurors is Increased to $2 per Day From $1.50.—The Law Went Into Effect on November 1, but Jurors Have Not Received the Increase.— Senator McGinnis and Judges Klein and Fisher say the Amendment is Applicable to St. Louis.

THE Circuit Clerk and the Clerk of the Court of Criminal Correction made a discovery the other day which gave them great alarm. They have guarded it as a secret, until they could ascertain whether there might not, perhaps, be some loophole of escape from what appeared to be the inevitable consequence of the revelation which had come unto them. This revelation is contained in the amended sec. 279 of the Revised Statutes of 1879, relating to the impaneling of juries. The amended section is as follows:

"Each grand and petit jury in the regular panel shall receive $2 per day for every day he may actually serve as such, and 5 cents for every mile he may necessarily travel going from his place of residence to the Court-house, and returning to the same, to be paid out of the county treasury."

Two dollars, mark you; two dollars. The old law fixed the amount which jurors should receive at $1.50 per day. The amendment increased this amount 50 cents and the new law went into effect on November 1. Yet all jurors who have been summoned and served in the Circuit and Criminal Courts have only received $1.50.

9,000 JURORS

Since December 1 the Jury Commissioner has impaneled about nine thousand jurors, and each one is entitled to half a dollar more than he received for every day he served. In the words of the great Mikado, "here's a pretty mess! here's a howdy doo!"

The number of jurors summoned for the five Circuit Courts has averaged about twenty-five to thirty each daily, and the number summoned for the Criminal Court from seventy-five to one hundred daily. The number of citizens who will besiege the Circuit Clerk's and Clerk of the Criminal Court's office, and the cry of "Fifty cents, please," or the slogan "Come in with me, it's safe," has been importunate. Captain the Plumber, in "A Tin Soldier," for instance, he owes him, can easily be computed.

Then the astounding discovery was first made in the Circuit Clerk's office that jurors had been paid 50 cents a day less than the statutes provided since the 1st of November, the date of the session of the Legislature. They were shown the law and asked for an opinion whether it was applicable to St. Louis. They have been unable to understand and Circuit Clerk Zane and Clerk of the Criminal Court Stead will be called this evening to help out the mystery. The two courts seemed to have made up their minds to-day that they had been swindled out of 50 cents a day, and the extra amount of money allowed under the amended statutes would have to be paid upon demand to all jurors who had served in the courts since November 1. The city, it is held, is responsible for the amount.

was here this morning in court, and asked why he had not considered the amendment of the statutes with regard to jurors' fees. He said his attention had been called to the increase in the amount of money paid to jurors, and he believed that the law was applicable to St. Louis," he was asked.

"Well, to be candid, I have not given it any consideration yet. Let me see what the state says, and then the Judge picked up a copy which was lying on his desk and opened the subject, the Judge said:

ANNOUNCEMENTS TO-NIGHT.

GRAND OPERA-HOUSE.—"Waddy Googon," OLYMPIC.—"Mr. Barnes of New York," PEOPLE'S.—"The Starling," POPPY'S.—"Mankind," STANDARD.—"The Night Owls."

Weather forecast for twenty-four hours, commencing at 8 a. m. to-day, for Missouri: Fair; followed by light rains; warmer; southerly winds.

Weather forecast for twenty-four hours, commencing at 8 a. m. to-day, for St. Louis: Fair, warmer.

The alliance between the Police Commissioners and the lottery ring remains unbroken.

ANOTHER twelve-page Post-Dispatch to-day proves that business "do move" in St. Louis.

THERE would be rich pickings for insiders if a St. Louis gas meter could be entered in a crack race.

The authorities can stand the exposure of their refusal to enforce the lottery law. The Post-Dispatch can stand the consequences which must follow, "as the night the day."

EVERY St. Louisian is asking himself just now in the modernized language of the immortal bard, "Why should a man put a gas meter in his basement to steal away his house and lot?"

THE merchants edit a large part of the twelve pages of to-day's Post-Dispatch, but it is ably edited and the information given is of a kind which is worth money to the public. The enlargement of the paper prevents our readers from suffering on account of the briskness of local trade.

Not a Confederate flag was visible at the funeral of the leader of the Confederacy yesterday in the home of Confederacy. On the other hand the flag of the Union was liberally displayed. Need there be any further proof that the war is over and its results are accepted in the South at least?

THE personal organ of Gov. FRANCIS published in its issue this morning an interview with the Governor on the subject of the Vest letter, and an editorial on the Vest letter, but it does not publish the letter. If the Governor will not allow the letter to be published in his organ he should not allow himself to be interviewed about it.

WOULD anyone have believed twenty or even ten years ago that a part of the Grand Army of the Republic would march in the funeral procession of JEFFERSON DAVIS? The action of the New Orleans post is eloquent of strengthening fraternal regard, softening asperities and that noble generosity which actuated brave soldiers when they have fought all the bitterness out. It was a graceful act in which sensible people will not find any sacrifice of principle.

In his centennial oration yesterday Chief Justice FULLER congratulated the nation because the first year of its second century witnesses the three Americas striving to increase the facilities of commercial intercourse, forcing nothing and consulting the natural course of things.

Consideration for the feelings of his most distinguished listeners prevented mention of the tariff against South American wool, steamship subsidies and custom-house interferences with the natural course of things.

CAUGHT AND WHIPPED.
The publication of the Vest letter in the Post-Dispatch has betrayed Gov. FRANCIS into an impolitic expression of surprise and indignation which shows that the shrewd Senator has given the Governor a home thrust.

The effect of the letter is sufficient proof of its timeliness and of the masterly skill and ingenuity with which it is worded. The Senator had undoubtedly become weary of professions of friendship and support from the Governor and his friends while they quietly undermined and fought him in the State. He saw that the time had come to punch the fox out of his hole and have the chase out at once. He is too astute and experienced a politician to be caught napping by a set of amateurs, and that he is clever enough to know how to meet them is demonstrated by his letter. It is a crushing blow to the plans of the Governor and his friends.

The meat of the Senator's letter is not found so much in the lines as between them, it places on public record the Governor's assurance that he does not want the Senatorship; by disclaiming personal ambition on the part of VEST it calls attention to the personal ambition and boastfulness of the Governor, which has nearly wrecked the party and threatens further disaster to it, by referring to the Republican gains and successes of the last election it makes prominent the weakness of the man under whose leadership the Democratic party came near to ruin, and who now presumes to lead another important campaign through the displacement of an always victorious candidate; by inviting the trial of the Senator's strength with his party it shows his confidence that he is the choice of the party, and that the effort to defeat him can only result in party division, and, finally, the appeal for harmony places the Governor in the position of one who will give the Republicans their opportunity if he continues his Senatorial campaign.

The Democrats of the State will undoubtedly read between the lines of the Senator's utterances. They can scarcely fail to see the danger and folly of the game the Governor is playing and of accepting the leadership of a man who works for his own personal ambition through the machine and not through the party. No wonder that the Governor and his clique of dependents are angry! They have been caught at a trick and whipped for it.

ST. LOUIS THE PLACE.
After months of begging for subscriptions to the World's Fair New York has $5,000,000. Scarcely a dollar of this sum was given cheerfully and subscriptions have wholly stopped notwithstanding the urgent appeals of the New York papers.

Chicago is unable to show more than $2,000,000 of bona fide subscriptions, nearly all of them having been got out of small shopkeepers and merchants of the second order. The millionaires of Chicago are quite as reluctant to part with their money in aid of the Fair as are their New York fellows.

VEST'S BOMBSHELL.

The Terrible Hole It Made in the Francis Senatorial Boom.

A "Post-Dispatch" Publication Which Created a Political Sensation.

State Senator M. K. McGrath, to Whom the Letter Was Sent, Justifies the Publication and Says It May Prevent a Waterloo Like That Which Occurred When Francis Ran for Governor.—The Governor's Forgiveness, as Shows by Two Interviews — Big Complaints and the Foundation for Them.

The exclusive publication in last Tuesday's Post-Dispatch of the letter of United States Senator VEST to ex-Secretary of State and now State Senator McGrath, has caused an excitement in political circles throughout the State which has not been equalled for years.

State Senator McGrath remarks below that "the publication of it has eliminated the Vest-Francis controversy from the next campaign." But it has done more than that. It has made Francis angry, so angry indeed that he seems to have forgotten where the letter first struck him. He is also inclined to cast reflections on either Vest or McGrath or both.

One day last week Senator McGrath wrote a letter to Senator Vest, in which he said, among other things: "I see by the Republican papers that you are not Dave Francis have come to an understanding and fixed up the future political party line.

The letter is signed "The Senator.

THE LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 12.—In regard to the statement that Francis and myself have been in an understanding or combination with any one, it is very evident that the Republicans intended to make an effort to carry the next Legislature in Missouri. They have been greatly encouraged by the result of the last state election in the State, and have overcome the ignominious defeat of a year ago. Tariff reform and like childlike issues can accomplish little in this direction. The real effort of the Republicans is to get the franchise from the negroes.

It is very natural that they should desire to defeat him and to be successful in the next election.

HAVE YOU GUESSED YET?

PROGRESS OF THE SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH WORLD'S FAIR GUESSING CONTEST.

A Pretty Girl From Carondelet Asks an Interesting Question—New Yorkers Join the Throng—Querries Answered—The Rush To-Day—Some of the Humorous Features of the Contest.

THE SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH's World's Fair guessing contest progresses very nicely. The mails now bring in numerous guesses several times a day, and they also bring numerous queries, which show that the matter is attracting great attention. Readers of the Post-Dispatch are those who want further details can get them very easily. All that is necessary is to send for a copy of the last SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH, where the whole scheme is made plain. Or, if the searcher after information will write down the question he wants answered and send it to this office it will be answered at once in this column. Among a number of guesses received to-day are the following:

CAN I GUESS AGAIN?

World's Fair Guessing Contest.

Please inform me if there are three or more cities before which in Congress for all the votes cast, or will the city which receives the most votes be the one which will receive the most votes cast?

I have made my guess on the latter plan and if not right, I wish to correct or try again. I was born in Greenville, Ill., Dec. 11, 1880.

No bill can pass the Senate or the House of Representatives unless it receives at least a majority vote. Consequently the city which is chosen as the site of the World's Fair must receive a majority vote on the deciding ballot. If you have made your guess on the supposition that the city which receives the greater number of votes will be the lucky one, whether the number is a majority or not, you cannot win. But you can vote again. You can vote as often as you wish. All that is necessary is to secure the blanks which are printed in the SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH. Remember, also, that there are 380 members of the House of Representatives and eighty-two Senators at present. Remember, also, that you can send a guess as often as you please. Whenever you see any indication in the reports of the progress of the contest, or when your previous venture is too high or too low, send in another, amended to suit the changes in the situation. There is no rule against "guessing" so far as the guesses are concerned.

A PRETTY TYPE-WRITER.

THE CHARMING GIRL TELLS OF HER WOES AND WORRIES.

A Stenographer's Lot Is Not an Easy, Pleasant One, but a Life of Work and Fear and Trouble—At School She Tolls, in Business She Slaves—Her Own Story.

THE energetic little girl who sits impatiently at a home wanting to "do something," anxious, as the girls of these days are, to earn their own livings, have a lesson to study. With envy they turn their eyes toward the pretty stenographer and typewriter come into their mind. An imagination picture her seated at her desk in a real business office, jotting down what the president of a big company dictates and reading it off on a typewriter—the queen of the office admired by all the company, worshipped by the book-keeper, adored by the clerks.

The ambitious little girls are not the only ones who imagine writing things about the lot of the typewriter, and the eyes of many will be opened by the bright little article below, which "one of them" wrote between "takes," just to tell what the poor girls have to endure. She wrote it just this way:

THE WOES OF SCHOOL LIFE.

You can see them almost every morning, groups of them going to school with their manuals and note-books, crowds of them coming out of school in the evening, generally girls, laughing and talking; follow them for a little way down the street and you will very soon find out they are "positively dying for a papa," and if one member of their class, more fortunate than the rest, is sent out for several weeks to come, she is surrounded at the noon hour by crowds of envious and admiring friends. At such times you will hear, that "he's" talk so fast that she can hardly keep up, and the group around her hang on every word she utters, as though she had the wisdom of a sage, and shudder when they think of the time when she will be sent to school and each one tells her that she will do you and me, did you ever stop and think what would happen to you if you were sent to school?

You may think it is lots of fun to sit in an office all day long and write letters, but to tell you the truth, it is not fun at all, and the stenographer's lot is very trying.

If you want a girl to settle down, just put her to studying shorthand, and I can tell you her in six months' time from the day she comes to you she will be as different as creature altogether. There will be a sad look in her face, and a thoughtful look in her eyes; she will sit with her head down, and laughing a little, will stop answering, as she remembers that life is too short to laugh, and she knows the value of a minute, if any. She will sit there, with her head down, the happiest time for the stenographer is her school days; she has to tell them. O, yes, to be sure, when she gets a position she may think it is lots of fun to sit in an office all day long and write letters, but to tell you the truth, it is not fun at all, and the stenographer's lot is very trying.

There are exceptions; I say it to the credit of some of the men, that they are very nice and considerate to work, but there are some who think the stenographers have only sense enough to work for their fingers, and treat them accordingly.

You can go into any office in the city where stenographers are employed, and you see the proprietor sitting with his heels elevated in the air, a letter in his hand and a cigar in his mouth, wriggling around after him, with a mild and main, with head on one side and ears drawing for a ear that she will make some noise, and then the whole office to correct it.

If such thoughts as these fill her mind, tell me this will all go away when she gets a position, and if not,

she may lose her position; get fired, as the boys say.
